BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia (Reuters) — Nikita Khrushchev prepared today for his week-end talks with President Kennedy but authorities here maintained a tight wall of secrecy around the Soviet premier's program for the day.

It was announced that Khrushchev planned to meet at an undisclosed place with Czech President Antonin Novotny. The Soviet premier's other plans before going Friday to Vienna, 40 miles northwest of this Danube city, were secret.

Blast Kills 10 Parisians

PARIS (Reuters) — A huge hole opened up in the ground in a Paris suburb today, wrecking more than 25 buildings and killing an estimated 10 persons. Many more were injured and several were still buried in the rubble.

An area of about three-eighths of a square mile caved in in the suburb of Clamart. The subsidence was accompanied by a violent explosion, but officials did not know whether it preceded or was caused by the collapse.

Twenty-five houses, a ceramics factory and a three-story building were destroyed. About a dozen workers were feared buried in the rubble of the factory.

Dominican Army Spokesman Says Killing Well-Planned

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Although wounded, Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo managed to draw his revolver and shoot it out with a band of assassins Tuesday night before he was slain.

The Dominican armed forces, which are investigating the murder of the 69-year-old strongman, gave this story:

A group that had planned the assassination three months ago attacked Trujillo and his personal driver, Capt. Zacarias de la Cruz, were motoring from Ciudad Trujillo to the dictator's estate in his home town of San Cristobal.

The driver and Trujillo were wounded by the first burst of gunfire. Trujillo ordered the car stopped, drew his revolver and returned the fire.

NO TIME TO USE GUN

The driver used one of the two machine-guns usually carried in the car. The driver said Trujillo had no time to use his machine-gun.

Trujillo fell out of the car and the attackers beat him, seriously cutting his face and injuring his left arm. Trujillo was killed and his body taken to a nearby car and put in the trunk. The body was found there later. One of the attackers was seriously wounded and another was presumed injured. The exact number of attackers was not known.

The armed forces said one of the conspirators against Trujillo was a former brigadier-general, Juan Tomas Diaz.

Uneasy Air Over Berlin On Eve Of Summit Meet

By DAVE OANCIA

Canadian Press Staff Writer BERLIN (CP) — An air of tense uneasiness is evident in this Western enclave deep in Communist territory on the eve of the Vienna meeting between Premier Khrushchev and Soviet

The uneasiness is not confined to West Berlin. It apparently has affected many persons in Communist East Germany, causing a sharp increase in the flow of refugees from East to West Germany.

West Berliners clearly are worried that Khrushchev may issue a new ultimatum that could again cut the tenuous communications links between Berlin and other Western nations.

Bishop Otto Dibelius, Protestant leader for both East and West Germany, expressed the views prevalent in the western sector and warned that the Communist must not be allowed to grab the city.

MUST STOP REDS "If the Americans cannot stop the Communists in Berlin and Germany then Europe is lost for sure," he said in an interview with a group of Canadian correspondents. "If we give Berlin to the Russians then everything will be lost."

He said the Red tide would move across the earth, first engulfing South America and then North America.

"The United States would be the first to fall, then Canada. Canada will be the last to be engulfed but what can Canada do alone?"

Refugees pouring into the West Berlin camps from the Communist zone say apprehension that all holes in the Iron Curtain may be sealed has caused many persons to flee in recent weeks.

The daily average of refugees fleeing into West Berlin has shot upward to about 500 a day from 330 a day some weeks ago.

GENEVA (Reuters) — Canadian delegate Chester Ronning told the 14-nation Laos conference here today that the international control commission in the strife-torn Indochina kingdom has been "unable to carry out its investigations" of alleged cease-fire violations.

Canada is a member of the commission, sent to Laos to verify the shaky left-rightist cease-fire there. The other members are India, as chairman, and Poland.

Ronning said the 16-day-old conference must accept its responsibilities to clarify and reinforce the authority of the commission.

He added that there was a serious lack of transportation and other necessary equipment for the commission.

On the cease-fire agreement, he said "the situation is in many respects still unsatisfactory."

"The international control commission is encountering difficulties in carrying out its functions of investigation," he declared.

"It is indispensable that all the parties in Laos permit the ICC to perform its functions and the ICC has in fact been unable to carry out its investigations."

Heirs Said In Control

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Trujillo's political heirs appeared today still to be in control of the Dominican Republic after the assassination of the dictator. But a power struggle generally was expected.

The 69 - year - old dictator's hand - picked government proclaimed "the continuity" of his policies and declared nine days of mourning for the generalissimo who ruled the eastern half of the island of Hispaniola with a tyrannical hand for 31 years.

The Dominican radio said today the greatest funeral the nation has ever seen is being prepared for Trujillo. The broadcast gave no details of the assassination or the identity of the killers. It was devoted instead to reading telegrams sent the dictator's wife and exhorting Trujillo.

'Lucky Stroke' Saved Divers QUESNEL, B.C. (CP) — It was "a stroke of luck" that we found them, said RCMP Sgt. John Stinson of Quesnel after he and Const. Bob Sitt rescued two youthful skindivers, missing for more than two days in dense bushland in the heart of British Columbia's rugged Cariboo district.

The skindivers, Jerrold Jean Puckett, 25, and Louie Prognan, 24, both of Calgary, had attempted to swim 40 miles down the flood - swollen Little Swift River Monday but were forced to give up after 18 miles.

However, when they struggled to shore they found themselves in dense bushland without food, shoes or matches.

Sgt. Stinson and Const. Sitt were among two - man police search parties that started out Wednesday at both ends of the divers' proposed route.

They made an unscheduled detour up a mountain to avoid a swamp and heard a cry from the lost men.

"They were going in the wrong direction," said Sgt. Stinson. "It's a good thing we heard them because we might have gone right by. They were heading into virgin territory and would never have got out."

BUDAPEST DEATH MARCH

Grenades Blasted Jews

JERUSALEM (Reuters) — Witnesses at Adolf Eichmann's trial testified today on the wartime slaughter of Jews by Hungarian fascist troops.

Hungarian - born Mrs. Aviva Fleischmann told how thousands of Jews were herded into a factory near Budapest for a death march and were gunned down or killed by hand grenades thrown by Hungarian fascists.

On the first day of the march "many fell and never got up," the witness said. "They were either shot or beaten until they died," she said. "Others were left behind dying."

Mrs. Fleischmann was one of 400 survivors in a camp of 38,000 women where "we were given watery soup in the evening and three times a week we were given a piece of bread," she said.

WATCHED BIRTH When a woman was in labor the camp commander stood over her with a flashlight to "see how a human being is born," she said.

None of the three children born in the camp survived more than an hour, Mrs. Fleischmann said.

Another witness, Hungarian-born Arye Breslauer, spoke also of the slaughter of Jews by Hungarian fascists.

Breslauer, a wartime employee of the Swiss Embassy in Budapest, also testified on the work of Swiss and Swedish diplomats in occupied Hungary to help Jews to safety.

He told the trial of the "brave" efforts of Swedish envoy Raoul Wallenberg to obtain immunity passports for Jews.

for a death march was issued, he said.

A report submitted into evidence by assistant prosecutor Gabriel Bach said Eichmann in October, 1944, ordered the Jews of Budapest "driven out — this time on foot."

The first wave of deportations had ended in July, 1944, by orders of Hungarian regent admiral Nicholas Horthy.

Breslauer said by late November some 50,000 death marchers had walked 140 miles to the Austrian frontier. He said he and three Swiss consulate employees tried to provide papers for some marchers to reach Italy for safety.

GOT PASSPORTS A "few tens of thousands" of Jews were saved by the Swiss consulate, which issued immunity passports as soon as an order of mobilization of all Jews

CATTLE POUND PROBLEMS

It Was All There—Except The Gunplay!

By DOUG PECK
Courier Staff Writer

VERNON — There were all the elements of the Old West—except gunplay—at a meeting in the Forest House resort on the west side of Okanagan Lake Wednesday night.

There were cattlemen, a sheepman, and a handful of homesteaders, and their problem—how to keep range animals from invading private property—was as old as Wilk Bill Hickok's six-gun.

It hadn't been serious business, it could have been the setting for a first-class horse opera.

Even the Hon. Hugh Shantz, speaker of the Legislative Assembly, who acted as chairman, hadn't seen anything quite like it before.

"I almost wish I was back at the legislature. It's easier to handle than this," he quipped at one point, when discussion started to get out of hand.

The meeting was called to discuss the pros and cons of forming a pound district for cattle for three miles, fronting on Okanagan Lake from the Flintry estate to the Kellney subdivision, and extending back about a half mile.

Agriculture Minister Francis Richter, a cattlemen himself, sat silent through most of the evening. He said later "we've got to do a lot of checking" before the department could make a decision.

The meeting was attended by about 20 people, including residents of the lakeside, like Forest House proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Walker, who have been plagued by roving bands of cattle for nearly 10 years, straying from nearby Crown grazing land.

The land is under grazing license for 125 cattle by two owners, J. R. Lidstone, of Whiteman's Creek and Duncan Tutt, of Kelowna.

The pound district, suggested in a 20-name petition to the department signed by the Walkers, among others, would make it illegal for cattle to invade the area.

Under its provisions, the cattlemen could be fined up to $25 a head for allowing their animals in the district.

Mr. Lidstone claims the district would cut his animals off from about 20,000 acres of good grazing land.

His stand is: "If people have the money to buy land, they should have the money to put a fence around it to keep out cattle."

Mr. Tutt offered to answer complaints and drive his cattle from private property, "but I don't see what else I can do," he added.

Meanwhile the Walkers and other lakeside residents claim they have been hard-hit by marauding animals.

Mrs. Walker said as many as 20 cattle at a time would wander through the resort property, disturbing guests, breaking down rockeries, and on one occasion, cutting off the water supply for a day.

She also said that a little girl one day came dashing excitedly up to her to announce proudly: "I've looked a big bull in the face."

Sure enough, Ferdinand was there, where he shouldn't be.

Under law, it is illegal for bulls to roam at large, except in special circumstances not applying in this area.

"I'm fed up with it," exclaimed Mr. Walker. "From now on,

I'm going to fight."

Tom Wallace of Kamloops, representing the grazing branch of the forest service, said a survey would soon be underway to see how cattle could be kept on the range benchland behind the lake properties, and asked the petitioners to "hold off" until this was done.

Other questions were answered by Leonard Johnson, superintendent of farmers' institutes.

In a brief remark, Mr. Richter said: "This doesn't seem to be an insurmountable problem."

He said it could be solved simply by taking a realistic view of the situation.

Jim Stewart, manager of Kelowna Ranches, said he thought a pound district was not the answer, and also urged common sense negotiations.

How to identify whose cattle were the troublemakers was also discussed.

"By the brand", answered

Mr. Tutt, and he described how his cattle were branded on the cheek.

"You just have to look at their cheeks," replied one homeowner wryly.

The department will now investigate the authority of the petition, and decide whether to constitute the pound district.

One other alternative is for the forest branch to refuse to renew the grazing licenses.

Meantime, residents are refusing to build fences and will continue to press for the district.

Mrs. Walker put it this way: "I like my steak, but not on the hoof."

Several other boys will take exams this week so they also will be able to attend.

Pre-Camporee instruction was given.

Eight boys are at present eligible for the two-day event at Canoe.

Mrs. R. Hutchison recently visited friends in Kamloops.

Mrs. J. Maynell has left for England, where she will visit friends and relatives.

Kelowna Student Wins Forestry Essay Prize

Ralph Gordon Currie, 16-year-old Kelowna High School student of 1788 Ethel St., has won first prize in the Regional senior division of the Canadian Forestry Association of B.C. essay contest.

His prize is $100, and his winning essay entitled Growing the Trees and Selling the Products—The Key to Our Future, is published in full below.

As the title suggests you must have both the trees and the market. There is no use in elaborate programs to grow trees if you haven't markets to absorb your product; and at the same time it is useless to develop extensive markets if to all them you must exhaust our rich resource, the forests.

In B.C. we are fortunate in having plans underway to provide sustained yield and in having well developed markets. The sustained yield policy is designed to give us annual growth equal to the losses by all causes.

It is carried out by private interests employing a registered forester under government licence; by public working circles managing the forests; directly responsible to the B.C. Forest Service; or by farmers who are granted farm woodlot licences. All these plans were instigated to ensure that our forests are managed according to the best forestry principles.

The products, being raw or semi-processed materials, are partially dependent on export trade. Although the markets in both the U.S. and the U.K. are well developed, almost every country in the world is a potential market for our products.

The employment possibilities for the future are excellent. A Royal Commission on Canada economic prospects estimated that logging and allied industries would employ by 1975 almost twice the 69,000 employed in 1955. To meet this figure we must completely utilize the tree, have all our forest land under good management and develop markets in as many countries as possible.

RUTLAND CRITICS

Chamber's Route Mail Stand Proposal Upheld

Some criticism was advanced—and then answered by the Rutland Chamber of Commerce's stand on the proposed change in rural mail routes, at the chamber's general meeting Wednesday.

Dr. A. W. N. Druit, president of the chamber pointed out that the action in sending out circulars asking RR2 and RR3 users to vote on whether to change from Kelowna to Rutland was circulated without any prior notice to the local chamber. This change was not what had been asked for, which was the delivery of all mail in the Rutland district through one or more rural routes, and not including Ellison.

In view of the action taken by the Post Office department it was felt by the executive, he said, that some effort should be made to support the proposal, which was somewhat along the lines that the chamber had asked for.

The letter sent out by the P.O. department cited the disadvantages of the plan, but said nothing of the advantages, which the chamber, through radio and press, tried to present.

The vote had gone against the change, so things would remain as they are for the time being at last, he said.

The question of municipal incorporation was raised by Mr. Marshall, who expressed strong opposition to any such move. Stanley Fitzpatrick who had been chairman of the municipality committee advised that through lack of interest shown and pressure of other Chamber of Commerce work, he had never called the committee together for the past year.

TO REPORT ONLY

He pointed out that the committee was set up to find the advantages and disadvantages, and present a report, not to promote the idea of incorporation.

The move had been taken because of the repeated refusal of the provincial government to accede to various requests from the district, advising the chamber that problems such as these should be solved by the district becoming incorporated.

Mr. Marshall thought there ought to have been a public meeting about the matter, but Mr. Fitzpatrick felt that there was no sense in doing that until they had a lot more information, and until it could be decided what area would be included in any proposed municipality.

In any case, he felt that the question of incorporation was dead at the present time.

Dr. Druit expressed pleasure at the good attendance—25 being present—and extended a welcome to a number of new members, making their first appearance at a Chamber of Commerce meeting.

He stated that the membership had now reached a total of 77. Art Gray then gave a ten-minute talk on the new Saskatchewan Dam, which he had visited recently while attending the Western Canada Reclamation Association convention in Saskatoon. He also spoke briefly on the new Agricultural Resources Rehabilitation Act, now being dealt with in the parliament at Ottawa.

This act, he said, would have the result of extending the terms of the PFRA, to all of Canada, as well as setting up provisions federal and provincial co-operation in many fields of agricultural development.

Reports were then received from various committees of the Chamber of Commerce, and correspondence was dealt with also. The local chamber's request for appointment of a member of the RCMP drew a reply to the effect that the request would be investigated by the attorney-general's department.

On the subject of traffic at the Rutland corner, a request for pedestrian cross walks was turned down by the district engineer.

Senior Citizens Enjoy Concert Of Band Music

Conducted by G. A. R. McKinley, the Kelowna Senior City Band Tuesday evening entertained Senior Citizens at the Lloyd Jones Home on Bernard Avenue with a sunset concert of music ranging from spirited Invercauld March to the old favorite, Sail Along Silvery Moon.

The band, its ranks swelled by the addition of younger musicians from school bands trained by Mr. McKinley, was warmly received.

"We don't get very much music here," one old timer stated, "particularly band music."

In response to several requests the band will probably return during the summer season with programs designed to delight the senior citizens.

After the concert a social evening with coffee and cake was enjoyed by band members in the band room of the Senior High School.

T-Night 'Swoop' In City As 1961 Census Starts

It was T-Night all across Kelowna last night, and the city's transient population received first attention from 1961 census enumerators.

Transit Night has ended, but for the next two weeks Kelowna residents will await the knock of the enumerator.

Rural folk will have three weeks.

Commissioner for the Kelowna district, Mrs. D. Harrison Smith, reports "all's well" in the district to date.

Her enumerators checked camp grounds, trailer parks, hospitals, motels, hotels, and "any place where people might be staying overnight." That included jails.

Mrs. Harrison Smith reiterated the fact that her enumerators have been "sworn to secrecy," and that confidence that information given will not leak out can be placed on these people.

"We have a fine group of enumerators here in Kelowna," she stated.

About 3,500 families will work on Mexico's first collective forest reserve on 1,000,000 acres near Durango.

Shipping Executive Visits Kelowna

T. M. Bailey, representative of Canada Steamship Lines has paid a visit to Kelowna this week as part of a continuing study by the company of tourism and travelling.

Asked whether he always timed his trips to Kelowna and the Okanagan during the balmy summer weather, Mr. Bailey answered: "Whether it's summer or winter, I always think of Kelowna as a favorite stopping place."

Valley Delegates Attend WCRA Saskatoon Meet

By ART GRAY

Saskatoon was the scene of the recent joint convention of the Western Canada Reclamation Association, and the Saskatchewan River Development Association, when several Okanagan members were in attendance.

For convenience the organizations are known best by the initials of their rather lengthy names, the W.C.R.A. and the S.R.D.A. The former is a sort of federation of irrigation associations and other groups, interested in the conservation and multiple use of the water resources of Western Canada, while the S.R.D.A. is mainly a Saskatchewan body, whose objective has been the development of the big dam at Outlook.

They have achieved their main purpose, but will have a lot to say about the use to which it will be put in the future. The sessions were held in Convocation Hall, at the University of Saskatchewan, with the S.R.D.A., holding their business session in the morning on Friday, and the W.C.R.A. having the afternoon session. There was a noon luncheon, at which the Hon. I. C. Nolle, Saskatchewan Minister of Agriculture addressed the delegates of both groups, and dealt mainly with the future policy of the provincial government on irrigation and power development of the new dam.

Part of the cost of the dam, up to a maximum of $25,000,000, to be borne by the province, and the cost of the power development, while the federal government is footing the bill for the rest of the cost of the dam, estimated to be another $75,000,000.

The delegates at the W.C.R.A. session passed resolutions on a number of subjects, including one urging speedy action in settling the question of developing the Columbia River basin. The W.C.R.A. will send an observer to the Resources for Tomorrow conference to be held in Montreal, Oct. 23 to 28 of this year. The W.C.R.A. sessions were presided over by V. Ken Dobson of Vernon, who has held the post of president for the past two years. A. W. Gray, of Rutland has been secretary-manager of the W.C.R.A. for the same period. The practice has been to rotate the presidency between the three provinces, and at this convention the election of officers resulted in Alberta men taking over, with Bryce Stringham, of Rosemary, Alberta, as president, and Dave Broadfoot of Redcliff being appointed secretary-manager.

Other officers are: 1st vice president, C. T. Hazen, Saskatoon; 2nd vice president, Ken Dobson, Vernon; Directors: Albert, Harry Strom MLA; Burdette, James Cameron, Youngstown; C. B. Mowers, Lethbridge, Sask.; Joseph Hampson, Moose Jaw; Dr. W. R. Tufts, Regina; George Ross Dundurn, B.C.; Felix Menu, Westbank; F. McDonald, Oliver; and J. Whalen, Kamloops.

A banquet at the Bessborough Hotel, sponsored by the Saskatoon Board of Trade, was held at 6:30 p.m., the speaker for the occasion being Warner H. Jorgenson, M.P., parliamentary secretary to the federal minister of agriculture, who spoke on various forms of conservation, including wild life, as well as water and land reclamation.

The Saturday saw the delegates set out on a tour of the Saskatchewan Dam. En route they were taken to a pre-development experimental farm, at Outlook, where the possibilities of irrigation on the lightest of sandy soils was demonstrated. It was noted that there is no furrow irrigation in use on the prairie farms, it is either sprinkler or flooding, the latter usually requiring the land to be levelled out into plots of four or five acres, banked around to retain the water.

The dam is in the early stages of construction, but enough has been done to indicate to the viewers the tremendous size of this entirely earth filled dam. The distance across the dam at the top will be three miles, and across the main fill a mile and a half, while the height at the centre will equal that of a 17-storey building. The lake that will be formed will be 140 miles, or 50 miles longer than Okanagan Lake. A total of 8,000,000 acre feet of water will be stored, of which a little less than 3,000,000 feet will be usable storage. The project includes a second dam on the Qu'Appelle River, which will be 90 feet high, and 9,000 feet long.

The system will eventually supply irrigation for 500,000 acres.

Canada, as well as setting up provisions federal and provincial co-operation in many fields of agricultural development.

Reports were then received from various committees of the Chamber of Commerce, and correspondence was dealt with also. The local chamber's request for appointment of a member of the RCMP drew a reply to the effect that the request would be investigated by the attorney-general's department.

On the subject of traffic at the Rutland corner, a request for pedestrian cross walks was turned down by the district engineer.

FLASHER LIGHT

The meeting decided to ask for a flasher light, to regulate traffic, and there was a good deal of complaint from some regarding the blocking of vision by trucks parked close to the corner, and also of the indiscriminate parking of big logging trucks in front of stores, in some cases preventing patrons of the stores from getting near, or even seeing the store.

It was suggested that a local policeman, if obtained, in a soon rectify this situation. In a report on the May Day the matter of licences for tractors and trailers used in hauling floats was discussed. It was decided to propose to the government that a system of special permits be introduced.

Sun-Rype Contributes Much To Okanagan Economy

Fourteen years ago a great deal of the fruit grown in the Okanagan was being wasted because it couldn't meet the exacting inspection requirements for size and color. The quality was good, the food value was there but the fruit had to be classed as culls and so it was thrown away.

This was a problem which was wrestled with at every growers' meeting. What could be done with this fruit? How could this waste product be turned into an asset? The answer when it came was modern food technology—fruit processing.

In 1946 the BCFGA, the growers' representative body, formed a company it called "B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd.", owned by the fruit growers themselves. The purpose and plan was to make byproducts from that part of the crop which, up to then, had been wasted.

The idea took shape in 1946 with the purchase of four existing processing plants. The now famous "Sun-Rype" label was registered and the infant company commenced operations. Since that time a complex of buildings, equipment, facilities and personnel has sprung up. In 1959, the name of the company was changed to Sun-Rype Products Ltd., to incorporate the famous brand name.

In its first ten years, B.C. Fruit Processors handled almost 13 million boxes of apples, which had been formerly wasted, and showed a return to the growers of close to $4 million. In 1959, gross sales amounted to nearly $4 million and $1 million was returned to the apple pools for distribution to the growers.

Today the company handles the surplus fruit obtained from the 50 packing houses in the Okanagan and Kootenays, transporting it with a fleet of company trucks and custom truckers, as well as by rail.

During the peak of the season, the fruit moving to plants, return of containers and finished goods to storage represents 150 truckloads daily. Approximately six carloads of cans are used every day and over 300 people are employed. The company's annual payroll amounts to half a million dollars. The company is equipped to handle one-third of the entire apple crop in any year.

Today, Sun-Rype markets 16 products, made by the people who grow the fruit. The juice family consists of clear, opalescent and apple juice; orange, apricot and cherry. Other products include dehydrated apples, apple concentrate, apple pomace, apple sauce and glaze cherries. In addition to these the company introduced in 1956, sparkling cider, a product which is finding acceptance in Western Canada on an ever increasing scale.

Sun-Rype plays a vital role in the economy of the Okanagan. It saves fruit which was formerly wasted. It returns profits to the growers—which is a clear gain for them—and it provides a substantial annual payroll. Directly and indirectly the people of the Okanagan benefit materially from this local company owned and operated by the fruit growers.

Freeway Driving

Freeways are North America's safest highways but there high-speed characteristics call for special precautions on the part of drivers, says the B.C. Automobile Association.

The auto club offered these tips on freeway driving, particularly for motorists who plan to travel in the United States:

Avoid heavy, sleep-inducing meals to prevent "highway hypnosis."

Glance at passing scenery from time to time to avoid steady focusing of the eyes ahead.

Stop every 100 miles or so for coffee or

In the event of an emergency, pull completely off the road.

Because of the high speeds on freeways, allow a comfortable distance between your car and the one in front.

Enter the freeway at the same speed as moving traffic.

Be alert to road markings, signs and signals.

Check frequently in your rear view mirror, and keep pace with traffic.

The BCAA urged motorists to brush up on these suggestions before leaving on their summer vacation trip.

Out-of-Condition Australians May Soon Catch Their Breath

In a half-dozen pages it de-

Attorney-General Aids Stuck 'Freedom Riders'

MONTGOMERY (AP) — Attorney-General Robert Kennedy interceded on behalf of "Freedom Riders" after they became stranded in Birmingham, a bus company official testified Wednesday.

However, a Kennedy aide, John Seigenthaler, denied that the justice department was working with or helping sponsors of the rides.

This testimony Wednesday preceded a request for a temporary restraining order to prevent several pro-integration groups from interfering with interstate travel. The motion was filed with U.S. District Judge Frank Johnson who is hearing a justice department demand for a federal court order directing Montgomery police officials to provide protection for future interstate passengers.

Johnson also is still considering possible action against two Ku Klux Klan organizations.

Earlier, Birmingham police and one Klan group were dismissed as defendants in the government's complaint, which grew out of violence which greeted a group of bi-racial Freedom Riders in Anniston, Birmingham and Montgomery.

Greyhound Supt. George Cruitt of Birmingham testified about a telephone call he received from the president's brother after regular drivers refused to drive the bus from Birmingham to Montgomery, saying they fear for their safety.

Cruitt said the attorney-general asked him if he couldn't get someone else to drive the bus, or drive it himself. Then, he continued, Kennedy suggested he get a Negro driver if the regular white drivers wouldn't move it.

After he told Kennedy no Negro drivers were available, the bus official said, Kennedy commented: "Well, hell, you can look for one, can't you?"

Several regular schedules were cancelled before a Greyhound driver finally brought the bus to Montgomery, under heavy highway patrol escort to the city limits.

The "Freedom Riders" were attacked at the Montgomery bus station by a mob of white persons and about 20 persons were injured.

Defence lawyers called several police officers who said there had been rumblings of possible violence prior to the arrival of the bus and said police were hurried to the station once the trouble started.

Calvin Whitesell, counsel for the police, filed the motion for a restraining order against Freedom Riders just as the court recessed its third long day of testimony.

3 Comedies For Festival

VICTORIA (CP) — Three comedies, from the 1400s, 1600s and 1920s, were on the opening program at the finals of the B. C. drama festival here Wednesday.

An audience of more than 300 heard the Campbell river Players open proceedings with Ernest Goodwin's The Devil Among The Skins. Adjudicator Mrs. Horace James said the cast achieved a good measure of the rough, bucolic comedy which the play, written about 1400, demands.

Duncan Little Theatre's performance of Villa For Sale, by Sacha Guitry, skipped along lightly and was at its best when Vivienne Sykes as Mrs. Al Smith was on stage.

Mrs. James said the performance of Shakespeare's The Merry Wives of Windsor by St. Luke's Players, Victoria, was a challenge and she complimented the group for attempting it.

"This by itself was a victory," she said.

The festival continues through Friday with honors performances and award presentations Saturday night. Quesnel Little Theatre, Trail Little Theatre and North Kamloops PTA drama wing perform tonight.

LUSH PASTURES

Placid cows graze quietly under brilliant Okanagan sky. Today, beginning of Dairy Month, Kelowna looks with pride towards its dairy industry — an industry dependent on just such cows as those of Michael Pansegrau, RR2, Cornish Rd. (Courier Photo).

SPIC AND SPAN 'MILK-PROBE' KITCHEN

Dairy Foods Service Bureau home economists, Jocelyne Leduc and Ethel Green, and director Marie Fraser, at work in their fine new kitchen, Canada's 350,000 dairy farmers have a stake in this kitchen, opened in Toronto today by Dairy Farmers of Canada. This is the first such kitchen operated by a producer group in Canada, and it marks the start of Dairy Month in Canada. Frank E. Lutes, Berry Mills, N.B., president of the parent organization said the opening of the kitchen "is another step in our policy of developing self-help programs for Canada's dairy farmers." Mr. Lutes said that the Dairy Foods Service Bureau, established 10 years ago by Dairy Farmers of Canada to provide an information service about dairy foods to Canadian consumers, has already created and distributed thousands of new recipes, but the testing and photography was done under Bureau direction by outside agencies. "With a kitchen now under our own roof, the Bureau will be able to improve its service to consumers through an increased output of tested recipes that appeal to both eye and taste, and are nutritious and economical," he said.

District Set to Welcome Dairy Month of June

June is dairy month in Canada. Once again, Kelowna and District members of the dairy industry are putting hard work into the national advertising and publicity campaign to spread the word as to what the industry is doing.

Kelowna stores will be among more than 4,000 food stores, including most of the larger retail outlets in the country, to receive special point-of-purchase material which will set the stage for greater in-store sales.

Radio and television stations will obtain special June is Dairy Month materials for local advertising tie-ins. A wide range of newspaper mats, for editorial as well as advertising purposes, are offered free as are special June is Dairy Month menu clip-ons for restaurants.

BIG SUPPORT

Considerable support is expected from within and from outside the industry. Many dairy operators make their biggest promotional efforts during June, to tie-in with the great weight of coverage the industry receives from editorial and advertising sources. Related advertisers and others whose businesses are not directly related to dairy will take the opportunity to doff their hats to the industry.

Nearly one Canadian out of every six derives all or part of his livelihood from the dairy industry. In addition to the families of nearly 400,000 dairy farmers, thousands of truckers, employees of dairy plants etc., dairymen leads to employment of farm machinery workers, automotive workers, retail sales help and people in dozens of other job categories.

Depending on how far this connection is carried it would be possible to show an economic relationship between our dairy industry and virtually every Canadian resident. From a nutritional standpoint it is doubtful if there is anyone in this country who has not derived considerable benefit from the abundance and quality of Canadian dairy produce.

It was not by accident that

June was selected as "dairy month". In the first place there is no better time, from the farmer's viewpoint, to draw the urban dwellers' attention to the countryside.

SPRING COLORING

The fields take on their Spring coloring and the cattle return to pasture... a welcome sight to the city dweller who has only recently put away the last reminders of Winter and who suddenly finds a "drive in the country" to be a most welcome diversion.

But June is particularly timely for the promotion of "dairy month" because it is the month of peak production. The same circumstances which allowed the countryside to put on its best face also created the very best conditions for milk production. Not only opportunity but also necessity says that June is the time for everyone in the industry to make the most of this annual event.

Background to Advertising And Publicising Dairy Month

It is impossible for Dairy Farmers of Canada to employ all of the advertising media they would like. There are never sufficient dollars available to take advantage of all of the advertising opportunities that exist. Nevertheless, many radio and television stations who are not included in the advertising program, like many newspapers in the same situation, find June is Dairy Month to be an opportunity to sell advertising. The "local" dairy advertiser... he be a distributor, a manufacturer or the farmer, is a better prospect during June. Most people interested in dairy are interested in "dairy month", most want to play a role in the industry's annual festival and realize that their advertising dollars are spent to maximum effect during June. One newspaper operator has consistently sold enough extra space during June to warrant devoting ten special pages to this event. Reports of four, six and eight pages have been fairly numerous in past June promotions. Similarly radio and television stations find dairy advertising easier to sell during June... and find that dairy editorial material enjoys especially good attention. Not only the producer, manufacturer and distributor of dairy foods is a prospect. In a rural community all those doing business with dairy farmers are potential dairy month advertisers. The supplier of farm machinery can be approached to run a "PR" insertion. The feed store operator will find a receptive audience when his products are advertised in terms of milk production.

PASTEURIZING EQUIPMENT

Wedding Vows Exchanged In Nelson At Saint Paul's Trinity United Church

The pretty wedding of Charlotte Anne Stell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stell, of Nelson, and Allan Wesley Harvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Harvey of Kelowna, took place at Saint Paul's Trinity United Church in Nelson. The Reverend E. Donovan officiated and the church was beautifully decorated with baskets of double white stocks, and white satin bows which marked the guests' seats for the large number of friends and relatives who witnessed the double ring ceremony.

A striking effect was provided by white dress coats and sparkling white chiffrons, which were worn by three shades of purple in the gowns of the bride's attendants, as the wedding procession entered the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautifully gowned in lace-appliqued chiffron over net and taffeta, her bouffant hooped skirt gathered to the low, V-pointed waistline. Back interest was provided by a slight train and two chiffron roses at the back waistline, trailed two streamers embroidered on the ends with sequined lace.

The trim was repeated on the gracefully-rounded neckline, and the torso-line bodice featured short sleeves. Chiffron, lily-point mitts reached to above her elbow and she carried a cascade of red roses and white Marguerites with white ribbon and white velvet leaves. She wore a silver and black diamond necklace and earrings, gift of the bridegroom.

Her fingertip, scallop-edged veil was trimmed with sequins and was held by a band of satin and chiffron. For "something old" she wore a linen handkerchief belonging to Mrs. T. Logan for the past 35 years.

The bride's attendants' gowns were identically styled in afternoon-length chiffron over taffeta, the scoop neckline outlined with a shirred chiffron trim with a large front bow.

The full skirts featured deep hemlines and the gowns were in three shades of purple. Miss Noralee Marshall as maid of honor was in a rose mauve, Miss Diane Stoll, cousin of the bride from Puyallup, Wash., was in a deeper shade of mauve, and Miss Linda Rollick of Riondel, cousin of the bride, chose a pale lilac shade for her gown.

Their handresses were halos of pleted white net, with a taffeta flower for a crown, and bow at the back. They wore white net mitts and white shoes, and their bouquets were Elizabethan colonial of yellow carnations and Marguerites.

Mr. Larry Chatham of Nelson supported the bridegroom as best man and Mr. George Anderson and the brother of the bride, Mr. Bud Stoll, were ushers. The men of the wedding party wore white dress jackets with charcoal trousers, black cummerbunds and bow ties and white carnation boutonnières, the bridegroom having a red rosebud boutonniere.

Mrs. Hector Mackenzie sang "O Perfect Love" during signing of the register, accompanied by Mr. Merlin R. Bunt.

Assisting in the receiving line at the Eagles Hall, where the reception was held, Mrs. Stoll

AQUATIC RIPPLES

Hello:—

It is your friend OGO again with the approach of warmer weather and the lake looking so tempting, hope you will all be joining me soon.

Exciting features are in store for you this summer at YOUR aquatic, and if you miss the Aquacade this year you will be sorry. Watch for more details on this in later columns.

Have you been keeping abreast with the swimming club, so recently organized by Jack Brow and a group of parents. Through the courtesy of Mr. Cap Capozzi and sons the heated pool has been put at their disposal for Pre Aquatic season practices. Much, much credit must be given to Jack Brow for the time and effort he has put into this. It may not be long before we have talent right here in our own community that can compete with the best of imports at our Regattas. To me this is a tremendous step in the right direction.

We know we have the talent right here. It is just a matter of having somewhere to keep in practice during the winter months. It would be well worth your while to view these youngsters and to see the hearty competitive spirit that prevails. Why have we had no champions? I'm sure many of you have asked this same question. Well it won't be long. Get out this summer and watch these youngsters go places.

Don't forget the Ladies Auxiliary Bingo Night this Saturday in the Aqua Ballroom at 8 p.m. Come and have an evening of fun. That is Saturday, June 3rd.

The regular Wednesday luncheons will again be held this year on the beautiful sunny Aquatic porch overlooking the lake. These will commence July 5th, and coincide with Open House the same day. These luncheons have been very popular in the past.

It is very encouraging to see RCMP patrols on the lake watching speeding boats coming too close to shore. This makes safer swimming for all and lifts the anxiety from parents that has sometimes prevailed.

Bye for now and I'll be seeing you next week.

OGO.

Sunnyvale School Holds Open House

Over 100 guests were welcomed at the "Open House" at Sunnyvale School on Wednesday, May 24. From 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., a continuous stream of visitors enjoyed the hospitality of the Sunnyvale children, their teachers Mrs. E. Middleton, Mrs. James Trenwith and their assistant Mrs. N. G. Wentzel, and of the Sunnyvale PTA.

As guests entered the school their attention was caught by a colorful display of art work in the main hall. This exhibit by the Junior Group of Sunnyvale pupils showed examples of paintings created in response to story telling and examples of coloring-by-numbers paintings. All the work showed care and pleasure as did the work-books which were on display on a side table. The work-books held printing, number work, pre-reading and language exercises.

Those guests fortunate enough to be in the school at 1:30 p.m. or 3:00 p.m., enjoyed a special program by the Sunnyvale pupils. Mrs. James Trenwith, accompanied by Mrs. Allan Iverson, directed five choir numbers: Sea Shanty, Folk Song, Song of the Clock, The Pigeon House and The Happy Wanderer. The choral singing which both the children and the audience thoroughly enjoyed, represented the culmination of seven years work by Mrs. Trenwith to bring the group up to choir form.

Three recitations followed:

Theresa Craze recited "The Problem" by Tom Cowan, Lenny Wishlow recited "The Cupboard" by Walter de la Mare, and the Junior Chorus Speaking Group presented "The Picnic" by Aileen Fisher.

Mrs. E. Middleton next conducted the children in two folk dancing numbers: "Take A Little Peak" performed in square dance formation by four boys and four girls and "The Virginia Reel" in which two lines formed down the centre of the room.

Several guests who had seen the Sunnyvale Christmas Concert commented on the marked progress of the children, for instance, the formation of a proper choir in which the bass voices of the senior boys were used to good advantage.

Morning guests found the pupils busy with their customary school work, and the school looking spic and span with attractive flower arrangements in all the rooms. The children, who had all helped with these preparations, acted as hosts throughout the morning and the older girls served tea. It was a pleasant morning spent among relaxed and happy children.

A major event of the afternoon was the presentation at 2:30 p.m. by the Soroptimist Club of a tape recorder to Mrs. E. Middleton, principal of the school. During the afternoon and in the evening the Sunnyvale PTA served tea to the many visitors.

I.O.D.E. Delegates Approve $60,000.00 In Bursaries

CALGARY (CP) — Scholarships and bursaries totalling $60,000 were approved Tuesday by delegates attending the 61st annual meeting of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire. Bursaries of $1,000 each were approved for 30 students—sons or daughters of deceased or disabled Second World War veterans—entering Canadian universities next fall.

Six scholarships of $2,000 were approved for overseas post-graduate studies by graduates of Canadian universities. The bursaries from the Second World War memorial fund have been offered since 1946 and will continue until 1965. The schoolships perpetuate.

At earlier sessions, delegates approved scholarships totalling $18,000 from the First World War memorial fund for nine graduates of Canadian universities for overseas study. Since 1920, a total of 205 such scholarships have been granted. Bursaries from the fund ended some years ago.

MANY BENEFITTED

Mrs. H. C. Bennett of Toronto, IODE war memorial secretary, said that "many prominent Canadians got their start through IODE scholarships and bursaries." Among them were former immigration minister John Pickersgill; Dr. A.E.W. Treuman, executive-director of the Canada Council; Dr. Watson Kirk Connell, president of Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S., and the late CBC commentator Matthew Hallon.

During the 1960-61 school term, the order assisted 81 undergraduate students in Canadian universities and four post-graduate overseas scholarship students, Mrs. Bennett reported. In other sessions, delegates agreed to extend their work to Canadian Indians. A special committee headed by Mrs. R. Douglas Jennings of Toronto is to give an interim report at a national executive meeting in November.

Mrs. Jennings told delegates a degree of segregation does exist between Indians and non-Indians, based to a large extent "on prejudice and on contempt for the real or imagined educational and economic backwardness of the Indian, rather than on racialism."

Mrs. H. C. Matheson of Saskatoon said the order is noted for its international friendship "but we have been very slow in offering friendship to our fellow Canadians."

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Rantala have had as their guests: Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Fraser with their daughter Colleen, all from Abbotsford.

Mr. J. Stewart has returned from Vancouver after attending Sloughness Hospital for a check-up.

Sue Blackburne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Blackburne, had the misfortune to fall and break her arm. She is at present a patient in the Kelowna General Hospital and her school friends and members of the Brownsie Pack hope she will soon be well again.

Mr. E. Steinko, who has been a patient in the hospital has returned home and is reported to be progressing favourably.

TIES RECORD COPENHAGEN (Reuters)—"Marian," Copenhagen Zoo's 14-ton hippopotamus, a favorite with zoo crowds here since she came in 1927, will have her 16th birthday this year. Although 16 calves is believed to be a record, officials hope Marian will increase her family further.

HAVING TIRES By rotating tires, including front wheels, a car may be driven 25,000 miles with only 20,000 miles of wear on each tire.

OYAMA

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James James were Mr. and Mrs. D. Brown from Vancouver, they have recently sold their home in Oyama and will be residing in Vancouver permanently.

Week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Taylor were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Taylor with their two children all from Salmo, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Butterworth went to Vancouver, last week to attend the Graduation Exercises at UBC, where their son Douglas will receive his Bachelor of Commerce degree. He has just been awarded the Kluwan Club Gold Medal and prize of $75.00 for being the head of the graduating class Faculty of Commerce.

Wayne Townsend was home for a short visit last week with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Townsend, he has now gone to Camp Borden for the summer.

Last week a pre-school clinic was held in the Oyama Memorial Hall when complete medical exams were given to all children who will be starting school in September. There will be 17 children going into grade one.

PTA MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Oyama PTA was held in the Oyama Elementary School last Wednesday evening. President Mr. Ken Gingell was in the chair for the well attended meeting, with Mr. K. Schuna-man's room winning the attendance prize.

Mrs. Ron Dungate, historian for the PTA, is making a scrapbook of all activities of the PTA and the school for the last few years, anyone with clippings, pictures or interesting information that could be used for this project is asked to contact Mrs. Dungate.

The students will hold their annual Junior Red Cross Sale in the school on the afternoon of June 27. The ladies of the PTA will be serving tea. Miss V. Harrison, primary teacher, extended an invitation to parents and anyone interested to attend an open house in her room on June 14, where they will be able to see the students at work and view their work.

A vote of thanks was given to all those who had helped make May Day such a success by donating their time so freely. Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Lou Dedinski, principal of the George-Elliott High School in Winfield. His remarks were directed to the grade six students, who were in attendance, and their parents. As these students will be attending George-Elliott when school starts in September, Mr. Dedinski gave an outline of the changes that they will have to make. He pointed out to them that one of the most important aims should be to make a place for themselves in the community. A question period followed.

The June meeting will be the Annual meeting and a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Gerry Tucker, Mr. Ken Gingell and Mr. Philby Rasmussen was elected. Everyone is urged to attend this important meeting.

GUIDE NOTES:

An enrollment ceremony of three local Girl Guides, Beverly Spackman, Louise MacNeill and Lillian Araki, was conducted by District Commissioner, Mrs. Ross McLachlan, of Summerland, in the Athletic Hall, at the regular meeting of the Guides, last week.

Accompanying Mrs. McLachlan were Gold Cord Guides, Ruth Laphin and Janet Storey, who recently had their Gold Cords presented by the Lieutenant Governor at Government House Victoria. These girls told of their challenge in order to obtain the Gold Cord, also of their trip and entertainment while in Victoria.

On Thursday next, the last meeting prior to the summer recess, will be held for which arrangements have been made for a "cook-out", on this occasion.

The following week-end, six Camp-fire Girls, and one adult are arriving from Wenatchee and will be billeted with, and entertained by local Guides.

TOTEM TWIRLERS CLUB

An enthusiastic crowd of Square dancers spent a lively evening at the party in the Athletic Hall on Saturday dancing to the calling of Fred Proulx of Oliver. Guest callers were his daughter and Ray Fredrickson of Summerland. Dancers from many Valley points were on hand to enjoy the evening. Door prizes were won by Jim Blackman, a lake view from the long U.S. holiday week-end. Mrs. Ferguson will remain for a short holiday, in the City of Roses.

Reds Nip Dodgers 8-7 For 6th Straight Win

Associated Press Staff Writer

What has put Cincinnati on top in the National League race? It boils down to a matter of pairing relievers Jim Brosnan and Bill Henry with one of the Reds young starting pitchers. When one can't do the job, the other does.

The Reds have won six in a row at the moment for a share of first place with San Francisco Giants, and Henry, a 33-year-old lefty, and Brosnan, a 31-year-old right-hander, have combined to save four of those six victories.

They did it again as the Reds pulled out an 8-7 victory at Los Angeles Wednesday night. Henry snuffing out one Dodger rally, in the eighth, and Brosnan nailing it in the ninth for starter Joey Jay's sixth straight success.

That matched the Giants' 3-2 afternoon victory over St. Louis and kept the tie for first, while dropping the Dodgers a full-game behind in the three-way scramble for the lead.

Pittsburgh shook off a slump with a 9-1 victory over Milwaukee and Warren Spahn and Chicago Cubs defeated Philadelphia 5-4.

BLEW LEADS

The Reds blew three leads at Los Angeles before Henry and Brosnan moved in. A two-out single by Jerry Lynch brought home the winning run in the ninth, after home runs by Gene Freese, who hit two, and Gordie Coleman had cracked 2-2, 3-3 and 5-5 ties for the Reds.

Freese's second homer, a two-run shot off losing reliever Dick Farrell, made it 7-5 in the eighth. But Jay then gave up a two-out home run by John Roseboro in the bottom of the eighth. The Dodgers next sent up left-handed swinger Duke Snider, but when Henry loomed in, they followed the book and switched horses, replacing Snider with righthanded hitter Frank Howard. It made no difference to Henry. He fanned Howard.

In the ninth, Henry gave up a single and two walks that loaded the bases with none out. That's when Brosnan hustled in. A run scored as he got Tommy Davis, who had driven in three of the Dodgers runs, to hit into a double play. But with the tying run on third, Ron Fairly lined to Cozman, who made a leaping stab for the final out.

The Giants, coming from behind with two unearned runs in the sixth for a 2-2 tie, won it with two out in the ninth when Joe Amalfitano beat out a dribbler down the third base line with the bases loaded. Curt Simmons was the loser, while Stu Miller won it with three innings of no-hit relief. It was the first victory in five games for the Giants, who had lost six in a row at home.

END LOSING STREAK

Southpaw Joe Gibbon gave up six hits, one a homer by Hank Aaron in the eighth inning, for his first complete game in the majors as the Pirates ended their losing string at five.

The Bucs collected 14 hits, eight of them doubles. They swung for nine hits and six runs off Spahn chasing the southpaw ace in a four-run fifth inning. Dick Stuart's two-run double settled it in the first inning.

Ron Santo drove in the deciding run with a ninth-inning single for the Cubs as winless Robin Roberts, once a leading ace in the majors for the Phils, lost his seventh in a row. The only other time Robin had that long a slump was in 1957, when he was 10-12. Bob Anderson was the winner for the Cubs in relief with help from Don Elston in the ninth.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

Lou Gehrig, then 21, took over the first base sack for New York Yankees 36 years ago today to begin an iron man record untouched in modern baseball. In 14 years after 1925, Lou played 2,130 consecutive games for the American League Yankees. Gehrig died June 2, 1941, and his career has been marked on stage, screen and radio.

The actual meet will get underway at 12 noon with the Legion Pipe Band in attendance. The public is welcome to attend.

Winners of the 50 events will be transported to Vernon's Polson Park for the Zone Meet to be held June 17.

Winners of the zone meet will receive expense-paid trips to the Pacific National Exhibition at Vancouver in August. During the PNE athletes will also receive professional Olympic training.

Finalists at the PNE will have the opportunity of attending the CNE in Toronto this summer for a Canada-wide competition. The Royal Canadian Legion has been responsible for the training and selection of more than 20 candidates that have represented Canada in various events during past Olympic Games.

In addition to the track and field meet, the local branch also sponsors a girls' softball team, a little league baseball team and awards four scholarships annually.

Archie Moore Is Hot To Go In Training

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP)—Archie Moore seems to be winning his desperate battle with the scales and age. After a week in the mountains his grey hair has turned dark.

When a fellow gets to be 44—his mother says he really is 47—he finds it a chore to pare down from 206 pounds March 25 to 175 now. That is what Archie has had to do for the defence of his share of the world lightweight boxing title against Italy's Giulio Rinaldi in New York Saturday, June 10.

It appears that Archie will make it. Furthermore, he looks lively.

A scouting party journeyed to his sylvan retreat in a Catskill resort hotel Wednesday. Archie was playing the deadpan role. "How do you feel?" someone asked.

"As good as I expected."

"How much do you weigh?"

The old showman arched his eyebrows. After a lengthy pause, he said "175½."

Nobody mentioned the absence of the grey hair of a week ago. The visitors were too polite to ask how he did it.

Mantle, Maris Alive Again As Yanks Regain 3rd Spot

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Staff Writer

It's still "Dial M for Murder" with New York Yankees. Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, one-two in the American League home run race when New York ran off with the flag last year, have come alive again, powering the Yankees along for seven victories in their last 10 games. And with the front-running Detroit Tigers suddenly gone cold, they couldn't have picked a better time to get hot.

Between them, Mantle and Maris have hammered 10 home runs and have driven in 20 runs in those 10 games. Maris has had only nine hits in 32 at bats in the 10 games, but six of them have been homers. Mantle, 9-25 while dogged by injury in the same span, has hit four home runs—good for seven RBI—in the last three games.

They were at it again as the Yankees regained third place, 3½ games behind Detroit, with a 7-6 victory at Boston Wednesday night. Maris drove in three runs, one with a homer. And Mantle put it away capping a five-run fourth inning and taking the AL lead with his 14th home run.

Fifth-place Kansas City spilled Detroit 6-4, handing the Tigers their fifth defeat in seven games and shaving their lead to two games over rain-riddled Cleveland. Chicago White Sox dropped Baltimore to fourth place, beating the Orioles 9-4, but stayed in the cellar as Los Angeles Angels, after losing 13 in a row on the road, won 5-3 in 12 innings at Washington.

BROKE THE TIE

Maris, who edged Mantle for the 1960 most valuable player award by three points after hitting 38 home runs to Mantle's leading 40, broke a 1-1 tie with his 12th home run in the third inning off loser Billy Muffett (0-5). He then drove in two runs in the fourth ahead of Mantle's winning shot.

Rookie Roland Sheldon won his first in the majors, although he gave up a homer by Frank Malzone, who drove in three runs for the Red Sox, and needed late relief by Luis Arroyo and Danny McDevitt. McDevitt nailed it with one pitch, getting Vic Wertz to hit into a game-ending double play with the tying run on third.

The As made it two in a row over the Tigers and handed ace Frank Lary (7-3) his second straight setback to boot. Joe Pignatano had four of the As 13 hits, a homer, a double and two singles; drove in their first three runs, and scored the lead run on Dick Howser's double when Kansas City broke a 3-3 tie with three in the seventh. Joe Nuxhall (3-1), like Pignatano a NL discard, was the winner with relief help from Bill Kunkel after giving up home runs by Chico Fernandez and Steve Boros.

Al Smith's one-on homer triggered a three-run third inning that wrapped up the White Sox' first victory over the Orioles in seven tries. Jim Landis also homered for the Sox, who had managed just one run in their last 24 innings while losing nine of 10. Frank Baumann (2-4) was the winner with his first complete game of the year. Chuck Estrada (2-4) was the loser, giving up five runs on four hits and four walks in 2-2-3 innings. Both clubs had 10 hits.

The Angels, whose only other road victory was a 7-2 decision at Baltimore in the season opener, finally beat the Senators on a walk and Ken Aspromonte's tie-breaking double in a two-run 12th. The Nats had tied it 3-3 with an unearned run in the eighth after blowing a 2-0 lead. Southpaw Ted Bowsfield (1-1) of Pentagon, B.C., was the winner with his first complete game of the year. Chuck Estrada (2-4) was the loser, giving up five runs on four hits and four walks in 2-2-3 innings. Both clubs had 10 hits.

Bowsfield, the last of five Angel pitchers, hurled the final two innings, giving one hit and striking out one man. It was his first win against one loss this season.

VERNON 15, KELOWNA 8

Canada's national sport returned to the Orchard City Wednesday night in a hot-tempered battle that saw Kelowna Bruins fall easy victims to a polished, fast-scoring Vernon Luckies squad.

From the start of the contest there was never any doubt as to which team had the power because of extensive training and an earlier start in the season.

The Luckies, defeated Tuesday night by the Bruins in their own back yard, made up for mistakes by keeping a steady pace in blasting goal after goal to the tune of a 15-8 triumph.

POOR START

A surprisingly large crowd of more than 400 watched as the hometowners got off to a bad start and were never able to recover.

Potential of the Kelowna team was strongly evident but lustre was scarce as the visitors squeezed through on many simple plays.

John Luckner and Norm Ogawa sparked the Vernon assault with five goals apiece. Former Kelowna lacrosse player Bill Roth banged in two for Vernon and singles came from Boonie Strother, Ken Greenough and well-known Okanagan boxer man Rolie Sammartino.

For the new Orchard City club it was Al Andrews with a hat-trick, Murray Cloughton with two and Dave Ritchie, Tom Haminishi and Dick Bartel with one apiece.

ROUGH, TOUGH START

The game started out rough and tough as tempers flared and penalties followed forthwith. Fists were clinched many times.

By half-time, however, the penalty total was sliced by more than half in the next two periods.

Vernon led 3-2 at the end of the first quarter, took a 5-3 lead after 30 minutes, went ahead 9-4 by the end of the third stanza and outscored the Kelowna gang 6-4 in the final session.

EXCITED FANS

Although the game became a one-sided affair fans still showed much excitement and desire for the return of lacrosse as a permanent sport.

One factor weighing heavily in Vernon's favor was the net where popular hockey netminder Jimmy McLeod turned in a standout performance in taking on 37 shots. Kelowna goalie Jake Huth fought with 58 Vernon balls.

A total of 21 penalties was handed out with Kelowna on the receiving end of 13.

Well known one-time Kelowna lacrosse coach George Kennedy made the official opening at centre.

Next local action is June 7 when the Bruins take on Armstrong Shamrocks.

CRACKS RECORD

Bruce Kidd, 17-year-old Toronto track sensation, broke the Canadian senior open and native record for 1½ miles Wednesday night with a time of 6:29.5. The previous record, 6:39.4, was set in 1956 by Selwyn Jones of the Hamilton Olympic Club. Kidd also broke the Canadian junior record of 6:59.8 set last year by Toronto's Chris Murray.

Face Lifting For Rangers Says New Coach Harvey

By AL COLLETTI
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP) — The signing of Montreal defenceman Doug Harvey as player-coach of New York Rangers makes one thing certain—the 1961-62 version of the Rangers will be different.

Harvey, considered the best rearguard in modern hockey, signed a three-year contract with the National Hockey League club Wednesday and gave prompt indication he wants to change the Rangers' style of play and bring a few new faces into the lineup.

General manager Muzz Patrick promised Harvey a free hand in the revamping job designed to make Stanley Cup contenders out of the perennial also-rans. Although the salary for the cagey defensive surfer was not disclosed, it was estimated Harvey will get about $27,000 annually under the pact. Harvey takes over from ex-Ranger Alf Pike, who coached the club for a season and a half. Pike, dropped last March as coach, will remain in the Ranger organization in some unannounced capacity.

At a press conference following the signing, Harvey indicated what he plans for the Rangers.

"I hope to introduce some changes in playing style. I'd like to see the Rangers do more forechecking and backchecking and work all up and all back together better. That's the style I was brought up on with the Canadiens."

Harvey said the Rangers would use the same power play as the Canadiens, and it could turn into a deadly weapon with Harvey himself running it from point. Last season he was a chief contributor to Boom Boom Geoffrion's scoring spree when he tied Rocket Richard's 50 goals.

If he could do that with Geoffrion what will he be able to do with Andy Bathgate, the Ranger forward considered by many as the best shotmaker in hockey? Harvey figures to give Bathgate the direction he needs.

At 36 Harvey feels he still has plenty of hockey left in him. "I plan to play full time"—for Harvey this means about 40 minutes a game—"I don't feel I am finished. I was hurt a couple of times last season, but when I was on the ice I didn't feel that I had reached the point where I had to pace myself."

Although he does not plan a sweeping change in Ranger personnel, Harvey said he is looking for some new faces, possibly one or two of his former teammates.

Harvey, with the Canadiens organization since he was 12, played 14 seasons with the club. He won the Norris Memorial Trophy for the league's outstanding defenceman six times and was picked for the all-star team nine times.

He is the first NHL player-coach since Sid Abel handled the dual assignment for Chicago Black Hawks in 1952-53.

In return for Harvey's release, the Canadiens asked for Lou Fontinato, the fiery Ranger defenceman. Patrick indicated Fontinato would go to Montreal, but said negotiations would not be completed for another few days.

Louis Says High Time Boxing Crooks Booted

WASHINGTON (CP) — Joe Louis, former world heavyweight champion, says it is high time for federal action to drive racketeers out of professional boxing in the United States.

His views were in a letter made public by the Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee, which planned to call him to the witness stand today.

Louis has been in bad with the U.S. government over income tax payment. The subcommittee left unclear whether this would figure in the hearings.

Louis was billed as an expert witness in the hearings on a bill by Senator Estes Kefauver to place professional boxing under tough federal policing.

The bill would create a boxing commissioner armed with broad licensing and other powers to fight underworld influence.

Louis' letter said "nothing in the sports scene could be more timely than your planned corrective legislation to... clean up boxing."

"Perhaps when you are through people will again refer to the boxing game as the 'manly art of self-defence' instead of the 'fight racket'."

BILL APPROVED
The hearings started Wednesday with words of approval for Kefauver's bill from such witnesses as Rocky Marciano, former heavyweight king, Gene Fullmer, recognized by the National Boxing Association as middleweight champion, and Tommy Loughran, former light-heavyweight champion.

Loughran called the bill "possibly the only thing that will save boxing from going on the rocks."

Marciano said he considers creation of a federal boxing czar "absolutely essential."

Rocky, still looking trim at 217 pounds, said it would be folly to say the states should pick the most competent officials to govern boxing.

"The truth of the matter is that the men who generally are best qualified for the state boxing commissioners' jobs are also well satisfied in their businesses or professions to give them up for an acknowledged political and most difficult position."

Legion Team Turns Back Bruce Paige

Don Favell pitched his Legion crew to an 11-2 victory over Bruce Paige Wednesday night in Little League Baseball action at Lions Park.

Ken Matsuda was losing pitcher.

The Legion team came from behind a first-inning deficit and never let up. They racked up two more runs in the third, two in the fourth and five in the sixth.

Carry Back Not For Sale At Any Price Says Owner

NEW YORK (AP) — Win or lose in Saturday's $125,000-added Belmont Stakes, Carry Back is not for sale. Not even for $1,200,000.

Jack Price, breeder and trainer of the horse which races in the name of his wife, Katherine, said Wednesday he rejected a syndicate's offer of $1,200,000 for the three-year-old colt, whose stretch runs in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness have made him the new darling of thoroughbred racing in the United States.

Price declined to identify the syndicate but said: "Carry Back is not for sale at any price."

It was at least the third big offer for Carry Back rejected by Price. The first was for $500,000 after Carry Back won the Flamingo Stakes and Florida Derby last winter. The second was for $800,000 and was made shortly before the Kentucky

Derby by a syndicate headed by Joseph L. Arnold of Lexington, Ky.

BOUGHT BALLY ACHE
Arnold's syndicate bought Bally Ache for $1,250,000 shortly before he won the 1960 Preakness. Bally Ache died last fall.

Price has steadily increased insurance on his star. It now stands at $1,000,000, on which he pays a $35,000 annual premium. Carry Back has added $739,068 to Price's bank account with 11 victories, five seconds and five thirds in 30 starts.

He can pick up another $102,400 by winning the 1 1/4-mile Belmont. Victory also would give him the distinction of being the ninth horse in history and the first since Citation in 1948 to win the triple crown—the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont.

The odds are 5 to 3 that Carry Back will accomplish the feat.

Names slated to be dropped into the entry box Friday in addition to Carry Back are Alberta Ranches' Flutterby, Balmusette, Dr. Miller, Hitting Away and Guadalcanal.

She Had To Walk Softly

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

"Do you want to kill me?" screamed Susie. "One touch, and those ice tongs will be pulling my face off again!"

The doctor had suggested examining her upper lip.

Susie's reaction was a dead giveaway. She had "tic douloureux" — fleeting attacks of shooting pains along the side of the face.

As you grow older, you may run into tic douloureux. Senior citizens seem more vulnerable.

At first, months may separate each lightning-like spell. But gradually the two-minute attacks strike daily—or several times a day.

Lips and nose become triggers where the slightest touch explodes into ice-tong agony. That's why Susie wore a wooden face and walked very, very softly.

RELIEF FROM DILANTIN

Because lightning bursts of pain resembles epilepsy's sudden burst of brain cell activity, doctors tried an epilepsy medicine called "Dilantin." After years of shooting agony, many incurables have found relief in a handful of Dilantin capsules.

If medicines fail, alcohol injections can numb the afflicted nerve, or the brain surgeon can operate to disconnect nerve fibers flowing from the face to the brain.

Before any treatment, however, you'll need a thorough medical—and dental—checkup.

Susie's now cured. Those ice tongs melted the day her dentist filled that gaping cavity in her upper molar!

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

The bidding:

North East South West

1 Pass 2 Pass

2 Pass 2 Pass

3 Pass 3 Pass

Opening lead—two of clubs.

Here is a hand from a team of four match which shows how a defender can play upon declarer's fears and bring about his defeat.

The bidding was identical at the two tables and South became declarer at three no-trump. At the first table, West opened a club and East made the fine defensive play of the queen rather than the ace.

South could not afford to duck the queen because he was afraid that West might have started with the A-J-x-x of clubs, in which case ducking would immediately give the defense four club tricks.

So declarer won with the king and promptly finessed the queen. East then led the ace and another club, permitting West to cash the J-4 and bring the defenders to four tricks.

Eventually, after cashing four spade tricks, South took a diamond finesse which lost, and wound up going down one. But if East had played the ace of clubs at trick one, declarer would have made the contract by ducking the club return and later taking finesses in spades and diamonds.

At the second table, a similar result was achieved, but in a different way. West selected the four of diamonds as his opening lead. Declarer played low from dummy and East won with the king.

East saw no future in a diamond continuation, so he decided to attack the club suit. He was careful to lead the queen, however, reasoning that this play would be effective if West held either the king or the jack.

At this table, also, declarer did not dare duck because, with dummy holding the 10-9-4, he was assured of a club trick by covering with the king. When the king held, declarer took a spade finesse which, lost, and the return of the ace and another club then defeated the contract.

Both Easts were thus successful in misleading declarer as to the location of the ace of clubs and thereby stopped a contract which would have been made against less resourceful defense.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Patience and optimism will be needed now. Some delays may be encountered, or changes of plan indicated, but take these things in stride. Follow a realistic program, and avoid extravagance.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, the year ahead should bring a great happiness in your personal life. Domestic, social and romantic matters should prove highly stimulating, especially during July, October and December—and there is a strong likelihood that, through travel (mostly in July), you will find opportunities for making many new and interesting friends.

Where job matters are concerned, excellent headway can be made through a comprehensive and well-planned program—if you launch it now, and follow through consistently. Advancement, with corresponding monetary reward, can be expedited by looking for new spheres of activity and showing a willingness to assume additional responsibilities. Don't sit back and wait for things to happen. Go after what you want—look for exceptionally good results during July, October and December.

A child born on this day will be generous and idealistic but may become easy prey to discouragement.

'Break With The Past' Unemployment Solution

By Elizabeth Motherwell
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — Unemployment is not a "celestial affliction beyond the control of man," the Canadian Welfare Council was told Wednesday at the wind-up of its 41st annual meeting.

Max Swerdlow of Ottawa, director of education for the Canadian Labor Congress, said its solution called for a "bold break with past philosophies and present practices."

He did not think that lack of education was a sole cause. "If all the present jobless became Ph.D.s, unemployment would still exist in our present economic structure," he said.

Public or private investment was needed to meet the demands for training facilities in industry. But those who hadn't completed grade school shouldn't be "chucked out the window."

He called for training of the "whole man." "We are not just training a man to do a specialized job."

SHOULD COPY SWEDEN
He said "Canada should follow Sweden's example in giving salaries while retraining unemployed men over 40."

John Davis, director of research and planning for the British Columbia Electric Company, said results of a study in which he participated showed that present unemployment benefits are inadequate for maintaining a "reasonable standard of health and self respect."

They required perfect management for subsistence — without even the luxury of cigarettes.

E. S. Bishop, Ottawa commissioner of welfare said today's unemployed had family welfare allowances and often a "working mother" had benefits that the 1930 jobless lacked. But, he said their situation was worse because they had to adjust to a down grade in spending while other incomes were rising.

"The panel talked of unemployed workers in terms of 'demoralizing capital.'" An investment of one per cent of the national income could offset the "progressive debilitation and demoralization" that starts with unemployment.

VENEZUELA DOWNS OVERTHROW PLOT

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt's government announced Wednesday the crushing of a plot to overthrow it. Plotters, it claimed, had been supplied arms by Rafael Trujillo, the Dominican dictator who was assassinated Tuesday.

Carlos Andres Perez, under-secretary of the interior, said the plot was led by two former lieutenant-colonels who held positions in the former government of Marcos Perez Jimenez.

He said they are Martin Parada, the former personal pilot of Perez Jimenez, ousted dictator now living in the United States, and Oscar Tamayo, chief of the national guard under the Perez Jimenez regime.

The Venezuelan defence minister, Gen. Antonio Briceño Linares, said 21 persons were arrested at dawn.

China Softens JFK Criticism

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China today softened its attack on President Kennedy and expressed hope his impending talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev will help relax tension.

The official Peking People's Daily, which speaks for the leadership of the Communist party, said Kennedy enters the negotiations weaker than when he took office as United States president in January.

The paper warned that "the people of the whole world are closely watching what attitude Kennedy will adopt during the Vienna talks. For Kennedy this is a grave test."

U.S. Problems Just Start With Death Of Trujillo

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The problem with the Dominican Republic is just beginning for the United States. The assassination of dictator Rafael Leonidas Trujillo solved nothing.

The 63-year-old Trujillo, after 31 years of tyranny, had outlived his particular time.

The middle class had risen against him. Exiles had invaded him. The Roman Catholic Church had denounced him. And all Latin American nations had broken relations with him.

He survived as long as he did on sheer muscle at a time when social revolutions were sweeping not only Latin America but the world. What outlived him was this:

While all around him the masses of Latin America were demanding greater gratification of their desire for a better life, and a better part in it, he kept his so-called republic frozen in the old ways.

ALSO A DICTATOR

Fidel Castro in Cuba is no less a dictator, with the same contempt for democratic processes. But, beside Trujillo, he looks extremely modern with his promises of a richer life and a sense of belonging for the Cuban masses.

Like Castro, Trujillo pacified the peasants by parceling out land to them. They were docile. Yet, the farmers scratched out a bare existence. The slum dwellers were ragged.

He parcelled out little else. He lived in the past. In the end his berserk tyranny—mass arrests, persecutions, executions, repression—was too excessive, became his undoing as it may become Castro's.

But he, his family and his friends got rich and fat off the republic. It's unlikely Trujillo's fat cats will yield control to some other outside, reform force without a struggle. So there may be bloody days.

If they triumph and set up another tyranny without broad reforms, it will be only a matter of time before they too are smashed. The sweep toward a richer life for Latin Americans is too strong for still reaction.

COMMUNISM VS U.S.

The real struggle eventually in the Dominican Republic will be between communism and the U.S. Meaning: the influence the U.S. can bring to bear through economic aid and support for a reform government.

At this point it's impossible to say on which side the odds lie. It depends on how far the U.S. government is willing to go to keep communism out of the hemisphere.

The Kennedy administration insists it will not intervene in another nation's affairs, but did just the opposite in backing the Cuban invasion. The area in and around the Dominican Republic is getting ripe for explosion. Sharing the same island with it is Haiti, where living conditions and ignorance are appalling.

And right across a narrow strip of water, called the windward passage, is the Cuba of Castro who back in 1949 took part in an invasion against Trujillo. The Dominican dictator demolished it.

Now Castro now is in better position for invasion and subversion than he was in 1949 when he was simply a discontented nobody. If he is truly communism's assigned instrument in the Caribbean, he will move against the Haiti-Dominican island.

No matter how you look at it, this is going to be rough.

Civic Group To Seek Aid

HALIFAX (CP) — The Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities will ask the federal government to force Crown corporations to pay grants to municipalities on a full tax rate basis and eliminate grants fixed by contract for any term other than the taxation year.

The resolution, passed Wednesday at the annual conference of the federation, said the government recognized the principle of paying grants instead of full municipal taxes, but this principle was not being applied in the case of federal Crown corporations.

The resolution said the CNR and the harbors board insist on paying an amount substantially less than the equivalent amount of full municipal taxes.

COLUMBIA PUBLIC HEARINGS MAY BE HELD IN SIX WEEKS

VICTORIA (CP) — British Columbia Power Commission officials said Tuesday public hearings into water rights applications for development of the Columbia River may be held in about six weeks.

Earlier, Premier W. A. C. Bennett announced at a press conference that an order-in-council had been passed authorizing B. C. Hydro to go ahead with an application for a water rights licence.

He said this was done to make sure there would be no construction delays after the provincial and federal governments reach agreement on financing of the $458,000,00 project.
